

Fredbear

Written by Pam Rosser
Illustrated by Patricia Wilkinson

© Copyright Pam Rosser and Patricia Wilkinson 2015
goatpeople@gmail.com

National Library of Australia Cataloguing-in-Publication entry

Creator: Rosser, Pamela M., author.
Title: Fredbear / Pamela M Rosser ; illustrated by Patricia Wilkinson.
ISBN: 9780646949598 (paperback)
Target Audience: For pre-school age.
Subjects: Teddy bears — Juvenile fiction.
Other Creators/Contributors: Wilkinson, Patricia, 1943- illustrator.
Dewey Number: A823.4
Printed and bound in Australia by kainosprint.com.au

To Michael, David and Peter

Fredbear was a very old bear. His fur was very thin and his eyes were very lopsided.

He lived in a house with a boy called Michael and a cat called Jock.

Before Michael, he belonged to his father and before that, he belonged to his grandfather. He must have been the oldest bear around.

When Michael went to bed with Fredbear each night he cried. He said the monsters tried to grab him and the witches outside always woke him up.

So one night, Michael's father put Fredbear on guard at his bedroom door to scare away the monsters. After that, Michael always felt safe and never had any trouble going to sleep at night.

